A close-up photograph of a row of glass test tubes in a laboratory. The tubes are arranged in a perspective that recedes into the background. Each tube contains a different colored liquid: red, blue, green, yellow, and purple. The lighting is soft, highlighting the glass and the colors of the liquids. In the top left corner, there is a red square with the white text "#5".

#INSIDEOUT

A photograph of a field of white flowers, possibly clovers, under a warm sunset sky. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a golden glow and lens flare. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some in sharp focus in the foreground and others blurred in the background. The word "conclusión" is written in a clean, white, sans-serif font across the center of the image.
